ALMA MATER

Sweet be thy memory, High School of ours,
Fair be thy destiny, fadeless thy flowers;
Hearts that have loved thee have won on life's fight.
Names that we honor, thy standards hold bright.

Our Alma Mater dear, to thee we sing.
May all thy future years new honors bring;
May friends thy banner raise, thy foes grow less;
All love and praise to our old E. H. S.

Words by Bertha Scrantom Poole.

Music by J. Guernsey Curtiss, '02.

FOREWORD

Enlightenment, the imparting of the light of truth and the freeing of the mind from ignorance, is an appropriate theme for the 1962 Orient. For by this process man has been able to advance to his present peak of knowledge. The facts first picked from hearsay by men hundreds and hundreds of years ago have been taught countless times to people of succeeding generations, making a great discovery, in time, common knowledge.

Throughout our lives more and more is revealed to us; but school remains the great middle ground for the exchange of knowledge. The teacher passes on information to his students. In later life the students retell the truth they acquired, enlightening a new generation. And so the cycle revolves, perhaps forever.

In these pages, serious or humorous, enlightenment is the dominant note. This is also true in our classes and in the many activities that make East High a society in itself. If we have one hope, it is that this light, now ours, grows ever brighter as we walk into the future.

FACULTY

CHARLES N. CLARK

Our principal, Mr. Charles N. Clark, is a sincere friend to all who know him. He never tires of helping others in the field of education. He believes that education should be the foundation on which to build in our progressive world today. It should be the means for learning the techniques and perception we need in everyday living. Mr. Clark says that every graduate of high school "is leaving the first step of his education and, with each succeeding phase, brings a change in his life and way of thinking. Whether he goes on to college or not, the techniques acquired will always be an aid in learning new things."

FRED R. MYERS

Mr. Myers, our vice-principal who supervises the work of the guidance department, is a firm advocate of teamwork. He regards the members of the staff as his team, and believes that only when "the whole team and organization work together" can a school function properly and successfully.

As we leave East, the memory of this man—his sparkling sense of humor, sound and friendly advice available to all who seek it—will be one of the lasting ones that we carry with us.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. HAROLD FAGAN

Henry Adams, in his autobiography, says, "A teacher affects eternity—he can never tell where his influence stops." This sort of immortality belongs to Harold Fagan, Head of Social Studies, and teacher at East High for thirty-three years.

Pupils can, and do, attest to his strong influence on their lives and thoughts. They loved him for his scholarliness, his insistence that things be done right, and his fervid interest in their intellectual growth and their development as people. Many have him to thank for a generosity of time, money, and energy spent in their behalf. Many look to him as the person who helped them find themselves.

His colleagues, too, felt his influence—cheered by his anecdotes, challenged by his wit, and stimulated by his cultural and intellectual zeal. They profited from his sense of responsibility, his high ideals, and his courage to fight for what he believed in.

Harold Fagan in his living and teaching radiated, for the lives of all peoples, a concern which, fortunately, was infectious; and it remains with us. Because of him, East High was wider horizons, more social consciousness. It is proud to have been the instrument of his immortality.

MR. LEROY JENKINS

LeRoy Jenkins died suddenly on July 1, 1961. His death meant a great loss to the people of East High School and to the science teachers of New York State. He began his career in Montour Falls, taught in Honeoye Falls for twelve years, and joined the Rochester system in 1954. For the past five years he was the head of the science department of East High. He served the Central Western Zone science teachers as an officer for four years. At the time of his death he was chairman.

Roy Jenkins was an enthusiastic and energetic teacher. He worked very hard to advance the study of science. At East High he initiated an annual science fair and various specialized clubs in chemistry, biology, earth science and photography. He was particularly interested in the Plant Club, and on his own initiative last spring he planted flowers to beautify the inner court yard of East High School, a memento of his generosity.

Friendliness was the motto of Mr. Jenkins. No matter how busy he might be he always found time to be a good listener—to both teachers and pupils. He had the gifts of turning a difficult task into an enjoyable one by adding a light remark, and of helping people view their problems with a sense of proportion. His thoughtful attitude and buoyant spirit remain as a pleasant memory.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—A. Mastromatteo, J. Reed, Miss Harzmann, J. Champaigne, R. Ring.

Because of the cooperation of each representative with the officers and advisers of the council, our climactic year of high school has been an auspicious and prosperous one. Through the additional time and effort contributed by each member, the class produced and presented the most rewarding Senior Play of many years, planned booths for the annual Carnival in such a way that the class emerged in first place in monetary gain, and conducted all its traditional Senior activities with average and above-average success. The Senior Class extends thanks to the individual members along with the entire council for the work it has done for the class during its Senior year.

SENIOR ADVISORS AND COUNSELOR

The activities of our four years at East High have consisted of two main areas: scholastic and social.

Our class members have been fortunate in having the aid of Mr. Lawrence in solving any individual problems concerning our scholastic activities. We are very grateful for the help and understanding he has always willingly given.

The second part of our high school years has been the carrying out of our social functions. Through the years that we have been organized as a class unit, we have had the able assistance of Miss Harzmann and Mr. Connelly. Their advice has enabled our class to make a success of all its activities.

SENIOR ADVISERS AND SENIOR COUNSELOR—Mr. Connelly, Mr. Lawrence, Miss Harzmann.

LOOKING BACK

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The American Field Service, under whose auspices Luigi was able to come to America, was founded in 1915 to increase friendship and understanding among the peoples of the world. In 1947 it began its new program on the teen-age level.

Now, high school students from other countries have the opportunity to spend a school year with American families. In turn, opportunities are available for American students to live and study abroad for either a summer or a school year.

Students from other countries learn first-hand about many different aspects of our life —of our customs, ideals, interests, and problems. They also broaden our horizons by telling of their own countries and life in their own homes. In this way, young citizens of the world learn to recognize the similarities and differences of those who, though they live in different countries, have dreams and efforts similarly directed toward the goal of a peaceful and useful life.

Bill Henny

Luigi Bertani

OUR TEEN-AGE DIPLOMAT

Once again, East High has been given the privilege of being host to a teen-age diplomat. Luigi Bertani came here for the year through the American Field Service from Parma, Italy. He has been the guest of Bill Henny and his family.

Anyone who has ever talked with Luigi has noticed his fine sense of humor, excellent English, and warm friendliness. He has rapidly and easily identified himself with our culture, from our language even to the "twist."

Luigi has been an asset to our swimming team, and has been one of our most popular finmen. He has been made a member of both the National Honor Society and Omega Epsilon Hi-Y.

Luigi has had much to offer us. He has helped us to realize the proximity of people all over the world; that we all have the same ultimate purposes and goals. He has taught some of us more about his favorite sport, Judo. He has been a help to the Renaissance Club. And who could forget his Brazilian cha-cha?

We have enjoyed being host to Luigi this year and shall always remember his charming personality. We hope that he returns to Italy with many happy memories of East High and the United States.

Exchange Student and U. S. Brother Luigi Bertani,

SENIOR PLAY "Junior Miss"

"O. K. . . you're on!" Yes, those were the famous last words shouted to eighteen East High Seniors as they were somewhat reluctantly shoved upon the stage last October 19th to perform in their year's senior play, "Junior Miss".

The play is considered among the most enjoyable in East's theatrical history. Jean Reed and Ann Mastromatteo, the business managers, must be commended for their excellent cooperation. The stage crew, the makeup department, and all others helped to make the play the success it was. Perhaps the greatest role belonged to Mr. Dolan who exhibited not only an outstanding ability in direction but also an extreme sense of patience.

"Fuerbach — — ha ha ha!"

The star in his dressing room.

ACTIVITIES

S. G. A. SENIOR HOUSE OFFICERS—R. Hayes, D. Dickinson, P. Smith, L. Walther, J. Lusink.

STUDENT GOVERN

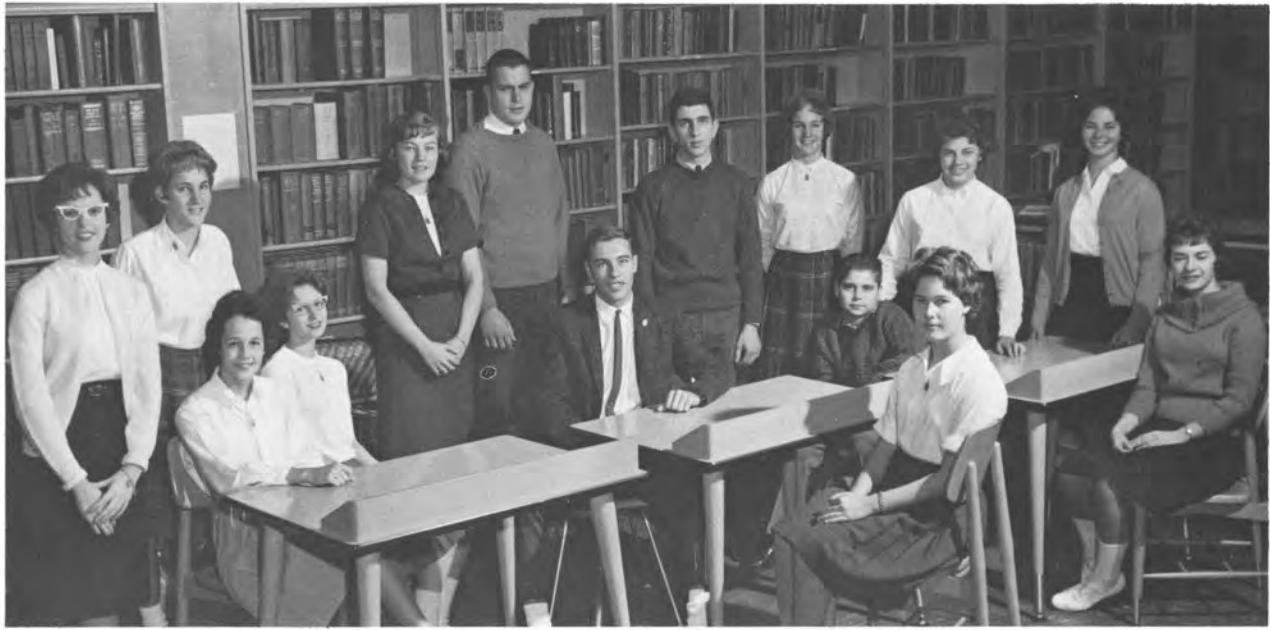

David Dickinson and Rosemary Hayes were elected President and Treasurer, respectively, of the student body for the entire school year, 1961-1962.

With the new constitution came the formation of the Junior and Senior Houses. As officers of the Junior House, Leslie Gillies became Speaker, Linda Cornell became Secretary and Sue Sydor became Sergeant-at-Arms. As officers of the Senior House, Leslie Walther became Speaker, Patricia Smith, Secretary and Joan Lusink Sergeant-at-Arms.

Under the guiding influence of Mr. Powers and Mr. Russell, the S. G. A. successfully presented the Carnival in November, the second annual all-school dance in February, and a musical in March.

JUNIOR OFFICERS—Back Row: P. Jansson, Mrs. Donovan, J. Fouser, S. Haas, Mr. Schutt. Front Row: L. Teal, D. Vandenberg.

Under the excellent guidance of Mr. Schutt and Mrs. Donovan, the Junior Class had a very successful year. The Class's candy sale was a highly profitable venture. A record hop was held in January. Junior Day and the traditional Junior Prom climaxed the Class's activities for the year.

The Sophomore Class, with its capable advisers, Miss Round and Mr. Hunter, has succeeded in all its endeavors. Some of its activities this year have been its four booths at the Carnival, the class assembly, and its two dances. The success of these functions has been due to the enthusiasm and participation stimulated by President Sidney Aroesty and the other officers.

The freshman council is distinguished in its own right, for seldom are students so well organized in their first year of high school. The council has accomplished much in providing recreation and enjoyment for class members. They sponsored a cookie sale which was very helpful in boosting the frosh treasury. Freshmen are looking ahead to their sophomore year with an eye for greater successes.

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club represents an opportunity for many students to develop their powers of personality. If consistent interest in the Debating Club develops, Mr. Weart feels it could be an opportunity for many more students to find pleasure and information in self expression.

The Orient

The Orient is significant to the classmates of 1962 because it illustrates those most treasured experiences and occasions which each of us remembers. The overall picture of work, play, schemes and dreams is fun to view.

The summer after Junior year we started our yearbook. On May 29, 1962 it came out in a blaze of glory. Somewhere in between, we put it together.

Orient Staff life is rich, full, and a world of its own. It involves the teamwork and wholehearted cooperation of many. Daily decisions and work finally followed by pride and happiness in our book.

We are confident our 1962 Orient will be noted by future generations in East High School.

SCHOOL WORK PROGRAM

After pre-planning, under the leadership of Dr. Raymond E. Francis, four Rochester high schools started School Work Programs in September, 1958.

The following year, with Mr. Robert Coolidge succeeding Dr. Francis as Consultant, the program was expanded to include East, when we opened in our new building in September, 1959. That year Mrs. Eddy and Mr. Wilson taught two groups, with a total of forty pupils.

Mr. Joseph Salemi became Special Education Coordinator at East High in September, 1960. Our program was expanded to include ten classes and teachers plus the Food Service Center with Miss Rose Pletta, teacher-in-charge.

This year there are eight classes and the continuance of the successful food shop. Mr. Salemi and his teachers are proud to present East High School's first graduating class of the School Work Program, in June of 1962.

AT EAST HIGH

FOOD SERVICE SHOP

The Food Preparation and Service Class, directed by Miss Rose Poletto, was a successful venture for both the students and the faculty. This class is for those who plan to work in a restaurant after graduation. The students will already be experienced in the use of all the latest restaurant equipment because they are able to put to practice the things that they are taught. This is advantageous to our faculty, too, because they have an alternate eating place and a different menu.

THE CARNIVAL

On November 17th, East High turned back its clock to that "Age of Wonderful Nonsense", the roaring '20's. Flappers, straw skimmers, and raccoon coats set the mood at the Carnival Assembly. The faculty helped produce a fun-filled atmosphere with its traditional show. That evening, the "Speak-easy", "Hit Sammy", "Candid Camera", a water show and many other attractions provided entertainment for all. At the evening show, Albert Mazzarella and Elaine Scarlata were crowned King and Queen, by Masters of Ceremony Bill Benet and Wayne Twiliger, to end a perfect day.

"Aw here, take your old cup!"

"I refuse to wear this dress!"

"ROBERTA"

On April 13th and 14th, 1962, Jerome Kern's famous musical comedy "Roberta" came to life on the stage of East High.

After the first scene, which takes place in small Haverhill College in New England, the story shifts to gay Paris. John Kent, an American college hero, finds that he will inherit the fashionable dressmaking establishment of his Aunt Minnie, or "Madame Roberta" in Paris. His aunt dies and he joins with Madame Roberta's chief assistant, Stephanie, in a partnership to continue the business. Stephanie falls in love with him but, discouraged by his affairs with his jealous fiancee, Sophie, and with Madame Roberta's best and wildest customer, Scharwenka, she pretends not to care, and turns her affection to Ladislaw, the doorman. However, after some sly work on Huck's part, Stephanie and John are brought together in a happy ending.

Among the popular songs of "Roberta" were "Yesterdays", "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", "Lovely To Look At", and "I Won't Dance".

The cast itself consisted of over eighty actors, dancers, models, and singers. Many others worked on various committees, and the show was well-backed by the orchestra.

Once again under the very capable leadership of coach Anthony Biesman, East High's Harriers coasted to top honors in Cross Country, with a record of 8 wins and no defeats. The team's largest asset was the "M" squad, better known as Al Mazzarella and Don Marker. This amazing twosome finished 1-2 respectively in every interscholastic meet this year. And both were named to the All-Scholastic Cross Country Team. Mazzarella added greater laurels to East and himself when he came in 1st place in the Section 5 meets at Hobart College.

The record was Mr. Don Youngman's finest since he has been Head Coach at East High. The team, led by captain Bob Cimino also broke East's long standing offensive and defensive records, compiling 156 points of offense, while allowing only 44 to rival elevens. Capping All Scholastic honors this year were Senior Bob Cimino and Sophomore Henry Cooper. Senior Bill Henny and Junior Tom Diehl were elected to the second team while Senior Willy Smith was chosen the Oriental's most valuable player.

Mr. Mauro Panaggio did it again! After many years of successfully coaching sports at Franklin High School, he once more led a team to victory. The 1961-1962 basketball team tied with West for the league title with 12-4 record. Later, in a game to determine who would play in the sectionals, East thumped West by a score of 52-44. This gave East the unofficial city championship. Outstanding for the Orient five was Wally Taggart, who was second high in the league individual scoring with an average of 21.6 points per game and a repeat on the All-Scholastic Basketball Team. Seniors are John Champaigne, William Gregory, Jeff Coles, Thomas Rebis, and Glenn French.

The J. V. Basketball team was also outstanding, placing first with a perfect record. Such a fine showing indicates good prospects for the future.

A perfect place for a Junior.

Rochester is sometimes referred to as "the city that has everything." In business, industry and the professions, this is especially true. No matter what kind of a career appeals to you, there is an excellent chance that you can begin it right here. And the beginning is half the battle won!

It goes without saying that the first step is your formal education—as much as you can get. Employers look for this first. The next thing they look for is "brightness." And one key to "brightness" is how much you actually know about the kind of work you're going after. This is something you don't inherit from anybody. It is information you gather in advance for yourself—from parents, teachers, counselors, and friends. Most important—employers themselves are always ready to explain their standards and requirements.

Your idea of the best career for your particular talents may change, as you acquire more and more information about different fields of work. But when you decide what you want to do, some employer in the Rochester area will really want you—because by analyzing yourself, you have made yourself valuable.
